Call to Worship

UCC.org

Reader: Stan Greene

One: Something drew us together this morning.

Many: Something we can't name but which we experience in worship.

One: Some holy mystery we call God.

Many: Some sacred calling we hear in the life of Jesus.

One: Some indescribable hope we feel when we gather in the Spirit.

Many: May our experience of the Divine transform our doubts and fears and prepare us to love the world.

One: Whether we hear a voice from heaven or a still, small voice within

Many: We listen and believe! Thanks be to God!

*Opening Hymn,

Be Now My Vision

(Black New Century Hymnal No.451)

(Find Music at the end of this program)

Unison Prayer

Let's go up the mountain. Let's go up to the place where the land meets the sky, where the earth touches the heavens. Let's go to the place of meeting, to the place of mists, to the place of voices and conversations, to the place of listening. O God, we open our eyes and we see Jesus transfigured to a beam of light, the light of the world, your light. Help us to recognize this light within ourselves, so that we may transform our lives and transform the world. Amen.

Assurance of Grace and Peace

One: Peace be with you.

Many: And also with you.

One: Let us offer one another a sign of Peace.

*Passing the Peace We Share a Hunger

We share a hunger: a hunger for justice in our world, that all may find joy, all may find wholeness, all may find peace.
We share a hunger: a hunger to feel the light of Christ
shining through us, shining on all, bringing God's reign.

Words of Integration & Guidance

By Marcus Borg

The season of Epiphany comes to a close today. This season immediately precedes the season of Lent. The Epiphany season both begins and ends with stories from the Gospels in which we hear the Voice of God. On the first Sunday in Epiphany, we hear the story of the baptism of Jesus, with its climax in the Voice of God speaking to Jesus, "You are my beloved. In you I am well pleased." And then, today, on the last Sunday in Epiphany, we hear the Transfiguration story in which Jesus and the inner core of his disciples ascend to a high mountain. And this time, it is the disciples who hear the Voice of God. The Voice of God says this time, "This is my beloved son. Listen to him." The disciples, in a way, represent us in that passage. "Listen to him." Listen to Jesus. This phenomenon of the Divine Voice actually has a name in the Jewish tradition. The Hebrew phrase that names this Divine Voice is bat cole. Translated into English, bat cole means "the daughter of a sound." The Voice of God, the Divine Voice, is the daughter of a sound. And immediately after the Transfiguration story -- immediately after that Voice has said, "Listen to him" -- we get the story of Jesus' final journey from Galilee to Jerusalem. The season of Lent is about listening to Jesus as he journeys from Galilee to Jerusalem. On that journey Jesus speaks about the Way -- the path of following him. To listen to Jesus means to follow him on that path that leads to Jerusalem. Jerusalem is the place of death and resurrection, the place of endings and beginnings, of endings and new life, the place where what we feared was the place of death becomes the place of new life. Listening to Jesus means embarking on that journey, and it is the journey at the very center of the Christian life
